The Mississippi National Forests are located in the four major timber types of the State—the shortleaf pine hardwood in north Mississippi, delta hardwoods near Rolling Fork, the loblolly pine hardwood type in central Mississippi near Jackson and Brookhaven, and the longleaf-slash pine in south Mississippi. There have been 116,000 acres of cutover lands planted with pine tree seedlings in these national forests since 1939. The timber on the national forests is being selectively harvested to place the young thrifty timber in the forests in the best possible condition for continued growth. It was a St. Louis Academy class ring and bore the initials E. E. Edwidge Eagen, Mrs. Wolfe's maiden name—and through this medium the ring was returned to its owner.

The old Pickwick Hotel, later the Hotel Weston, formerly stood on the square of ground through which Court street now runs and when Mrs. Wolfe was "courtin'" Mrs. Wolfe they were guests at a dance at the hotel and it was then the ring was lost. ### American Red Cross

TRANSFUSION—Thousands of American soldiers wounded in battle on the world's fighting fronts today are alive because they received transfusions of Red Cross blood plasma. Made possible through the donations of thousands of patriotic men and women, the Red Cross blood plasma project ranks as the world's largest medical undertaking.

TO FIGHT FOR OUR COUNTRY IS THEIR RESPONSIBILITY, TO BRING THEM BACK IS OURS

The call to arms has been heeded by every able-bodied American man of fighting age. His country was in danger. To avert that danger, for his own personal happiness, for the welfare of his neighbor, he donned the colors of his country and went forward to wage war against the enemy who was threatening our American way of life. It was his duty and he did it. Our duty is to see that the greatest possible number of these gallant, unselfish, daring men are returned to their country. We must send our blood to give them the life to return home. For us to donate a pint of blood to make the precious plasma, incur no risk, no unpleasantness, just possibly a few minutes of inconvenience of time taken from our daily routine. For him to risk his life on the fighting front means everything. He has given his all for our protection. Are the scales evenly balanced?

Aside from any sentimentality which we feel for those we love, is the fact that our American Nation, by every able-bodied American man of fighting age, is a privilege. This preservation can only be accomplished by the propagation of the coming generation by men such as those who are battling this war for us. They are the fathers of tomorrow. Their knowledge, their valor, their undying courage must be instilled in the children which will be born to them. For the sake of preserving this ideal country of ours, we must see that as many as possible of these men return to us.

Medical science has been God inspired in the battle to save human lives, in the greatest struggle which the world has ever known since creation began. To be a part of any such program is a privilege, which those of us who are able, cannot allow to pass us by. We are all a part of this great nation, we all mean to preserve the sanctity of our Union, and we all mean to be our bounden duty. For those of us, who are unable to lend ourselves, except as it were by remote control, is the giving of the precious blood which will travel to fighting fronts all over the globe, so that our American men, can and will return to glory in a life of independence for which they struggled, and for which you gave, and which will continue to grow and spread throughout a less enlightened world, until all mankind realizes the benefits under which we live, and peace will be assured for all time.

Agriculture Hints

State College, Miss.—A practical basis for developing an enduring agriculture in Mississippi is found in conservation-type rotations, properly applied to specific land classes or conditions on well-terraced cropland, according to C. R. Ashford, extension soil conservationist.

Continued row cropping on even moderately sloping terraced land results in serious soil loss. The steeper the slope, the more rapidly the soil is washed and depleted, but good conservation-type rotations will control most of the serious washing except in the steepest slopes requiring perennial close-growing cover crops.

On moderate slopes, crop rotations that call for a close-growing summer legume between each row crop year will reduce soil loss to a figure while the legume crop is on the land, and make the soil more absorbent and resistant to washing during the following row crop year. Legume residues also increase the organic matter and nitrogen content of the soil which result in better stands and higher crop yields.

Crop rotations which include two successive years of a close-growing summer legume followed by one row crop suddenly still better erosion control, and greater soil improving benefits. Annual legumes as in succession with winter small grains have proven especially satisfactory in these rotations.

Mr. Ashford stressed the fact that in all crop rotations, crop residue material should be left on the land for maximum protection and soil improvement.

WAR RATION BOARD COLUMN

Here's good news for jam-loving kids and adults, too.

Under a new OPA ruling farm wives, housewives and other home processors will get enough sugar this year to produce as large a pack of fruit juices, fruits, preserves, jams, jellies and fruit butters for resale as they did in 1941, according to Mr. Gregory, chairman of the Hancock County War Price and Rationing Board.

Previously OPA had allotted only up to 250 pounds for canning this season but now home processors who can show greater need may apply at their local ration boards for enough to equal their 1941 pack. The processor, of course, must use the sugar solely for producing the foods listed, all of which have blue point value on the consumer table.

Three more red stamps each worth 10 points became good for buying rationed meats, fats and dairy products July 30.

They were A-5, B-5 and C-5 in War Ration Book Four and represent the housewife's quota for a period now set at four weeks—July 30 to August 27.

Mr. Gregory said July point ration value charts for meats and fats and for processed foods would remain in use at least until August 13. The 16 point value for one pound of creamery butter, established on July 23, continues in effect.

Indications, based on initial applications, are that 20 percent of "B" and "C" gasoline allotments are subject to rejection because of failure of the motorist to comply fully with the car-sharing requirement, said the Chairman of the Hancock County War Price and Rationing Board.

District OPA Director W. E. Holcomb, pointed out today that all local War Price and Rationing Boards have been instructed by Washington to deny renewal of home-to-work supplements unless full participation in car-sharing pools is shown. In some cases the boards are authorized to issue a 30-day probationary supplement to enable the motorist to join or form a pool. After that, non-participants may receive only the basic "A" ration.

The move was designed to halt a threatening transportation crisis brought about by dwindling supply of usable private cars and increasingly acute shortage of gasoline and large size types of the type used by trucks and buses.

Farmers and other shippers of perishables were advised by the Office of Price Administration to exercise caution in making shipments in farm trucks on dubious tires during the months of August and September.

OPA cited the critical shortage of large-size tires used by trucks and buses, resulting from sharply increased military demands. National quotas have been slashed to the lowest figure since rationing began and a majority of local War Price and Rationing Boards will have no replacement tires for trucks stranded on the side of the road through tire failures.

Starting trips on risky tires during the critical periods might result in spoils of valuable cargoes, OPA said.

No net increase in cost of living is expected to result from new prices for live poultry, Mr. Gregory said.

New Maximum prices are geared to new specifications for live poultry set up by the Department of Agriculture, with poultry graded "1" and "2" rather than "A," "B" and "C." The new grade 1 will take ceilings previously applicable to grade C, with a differential of 4 cents per pound at producer level carried through to consumers on the previous mark-up basis. Some 60 percent of poultry previously graded B will meet grade 1 specifications and remainder will fall into grade 2, to balance at just about previous retail averages.

"AND THE ANGELS SING" TO BE AT A. & G. THEATRE SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Betty Hutton, fresh from her triumphs in "Miracle of Morgan's Creek," just about mops up in her latest screen appearance. La Hutton's comedy capers and vocalizing get across in fine style. Dorothy Lamour and Fred MacMurray are excellent in important roles. The script by Melvin Frank and Norman Panama is replete with dialog that abounds in laughs. Songs by Johnny Burke and James Van Heusen will probably be whistled on highways and byways. It is definitely a "must" picture to family audiences. The "Angels" are a wacky family. Their father, Raymond Walburn, wants to buy a soy bean farm. So the four girls form a singing team to obtain the money. They meet with success in their debut at a roadhouse, where Miss Lamour meets Fred MacMurray. And they sing as pretty as they look! "It Could Happen To You," "For the First Hundred Years," "His Rocking Horse Ran Away," "How Does Your Garden Grow," "Bluebirds in My Belfry" by Burke and Van Heusen—3 other songs.

Mr. Seals was a native of Hancock County. He had lived here most of his life. A well known citizen, respected by all who knew him. From one of the pioneer families here. He was a son of the late John J. Seals and Mirantha Holden Seals of this city.

Funeral services were held at Wesson Baptist Church. Interment in Wesson Cemetery.

Our warmest sympathy goes out to his family in their hour of sorrow.

ORTTE THEATRE SUNDAY-MONDAY "CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOCK"

Starring Donald O'Connor And Peggy Ryan with Ann Blyth—Patrick Knowles

"Chip Off The Old Block," Universal's latest Donald O'Connor-Peggy Ryan feature, which plays Sunday and Monday at the Ortte Theatre, is by all odds the best of the lively comedy musicals which have teamed these engaging young personalities. The film is a superior example of movie fare suited for all the family, and was received enthusiastically.

The sensational young O'Connor's star will continue to soar, on the strength of performances such as he delivers in "Chip off the Old Block." He is again the irrepressible American youth, with a great capacity for fun and laughter, yet without possessing of a maturity beyond his years.

Universal continues to demonstrate shrewd judgment in pairing O'Connor with Pert Peggy Ryan, whose rare talents for fast comedy are rivaled only by her nimbleness as an eccentric dancer. Miss Ryan is good entertainment by herself; with O'Connor as a complement she is

Gainesville News

Guests of Mrs. Cora Schulthies Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Miller from Gulfport and Mrs. H. A. Richard and two sons from Handsboro.

Mrs. Arnold Carver and Mrs. McKean from Logtown spent the week end with their mother Mrs. John Jones.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Kimbell Russ in the death of their son, John.

Film Newcomer

Sharing top honors with this pair in "Chip Off the Old Block" is a fetching, 17-year-old newcomer to films, Ann Blyth, signed by Universal after two years' appearance in the stage success "Watch On The Rhine." Miss Blyth, who provides romantic interest for O'Connor in the film story, makes a notable debut, suffering not at all from the accomplished company in which she finds herself.

Meriting special mention is the initial screen effort of yet another, Joel Kupperman, radio's already-famous "Quiz Kid." The seven-year-old mathematical marvel is a bundle of uninhibited boy, and was wisely allowed to play himself before the cameras.

Featured supporting players are unusually well cast, including such able cinema troupers as Helen Vinson, Helen Broderick, Arthur Treacher, Patric Knowles, J. Edward Bromberg, Ernest Truex, Minna Gombell, Samuel S. Hinds and Irving Bacon.

And rich is a man . . . in fact and fancy . . . who has acquired complete insurance protection for all his assets.

More came Out of that Old Lunch Pail than went In

Big sandwiches with thick slices of bread helped to build the brawn that built America's industrial might.

War-time demands upon men and women, young and old, have brought us as a nation to a stern realization of the need for an adequate diet for all.

So today—in homes, in plant cafeterias and in restaurants large and small —America is wisely recognizing the nutritive importance of bread. Now enriched, it is the finest bread ever set before the human race . . . so good that our ancestors would have called it cake.

When you eat plenty of enriched bread, you improve your diet besides saving ration points for other good foods.

In addition to supplying the bakers of America with yeast, Anheuser-Busch manufactures glider and bomber fuselage frames, wing parts, gun turret parts and foodstuffs for the government, and produces other materials which go into the manufacture of: Rubber, Aluminum • Munitions • Medicines • B-Complex Vitamins • Hospital Diets • Baby Foods Bread and other Bakery products • Vitamin-fortified cattle feeds • Batteries • Paper Soap and Textiles—so name a few.

CAMP AND HOSPITAL COUNCILS

Three years ago, at Fort Dix, New Jersey, the organization meeting of the first Camp and Hospital Council was held. This was a new program of service which grew out of a very definite need.

Then as now, the Army and Navy fed, housed, and clothed each man and woman who joined their ranks. Yet there was, then as now, a real need for countless articles not available through either Army or Navy channels. Individuals and organizations made donations to camps, but, to get these gifts delivered to the Armed Forces without duplication was impossible, without a special organization to handle them. For the officers, with their manifold duties to perform, it was impossible, so the Red Cross stepped in where once again needed, and formed the Camp and Hospital Councils. These Councils now service over four thousand Camps and Hospitals. Our local Chapter is affiliated with the Gulfport Field. Once each month regular meetings are held at the Field to determine the needs for the coming month. Representatives are there from each Chapter to carry on this work.

Among the numerous activities of this council is the mending mentally of wounded service men who are returned to this country for convalescing. These articles are supplied them so that they may distract their minds to forget the horror of the war which they have recently experienced. Little every day luxuries are provided for the men, which would be impossible to give them otherwise; the little thing which remind the boys of home.

This is a branch of the Red Cross Service which is so new that many people are not familiar with its functions. We would like to give in detail the many objects and works that are performed by its members, but that would require an entire leaflet. But we do want you to know that your Chapter is connected with, and has done some very worthwhile work in this branch of service. An entire Day Room for recreational purposes was fitted out by you. Mrs. Leo Seal, Vice-Chairman of Harrison and Hancock counties, is in receipt of a recent letter of thanks, which she would like all of you to be familiar with, as it shows appreciation of donations, no matter how small they may be.

The letter is from Mrs. Martha Griffin Harris, Assistant Field Director, Gulfport Army Air Field and reads:

"We would like to thank you for the following articles which you gave at the last Camp and Hospital meeting:

25 glass ashtrays decorated by your local girl scouts
3 vases and five frogs for arranging flowers
2 card tables

1 guitar (to be used in the Medical Detachment day room)
1 copy of the book "Victoria Grand"

We appreciated these so much, and feel sure that the patients will benefit from these gifts."

There isn't much more that we can say, except to add, that it is the little things that give the most pleasure in life, so if you have anything that you would like to donate to this service, any gift, however small, is always greatly esteemed by the men whom it reaches.

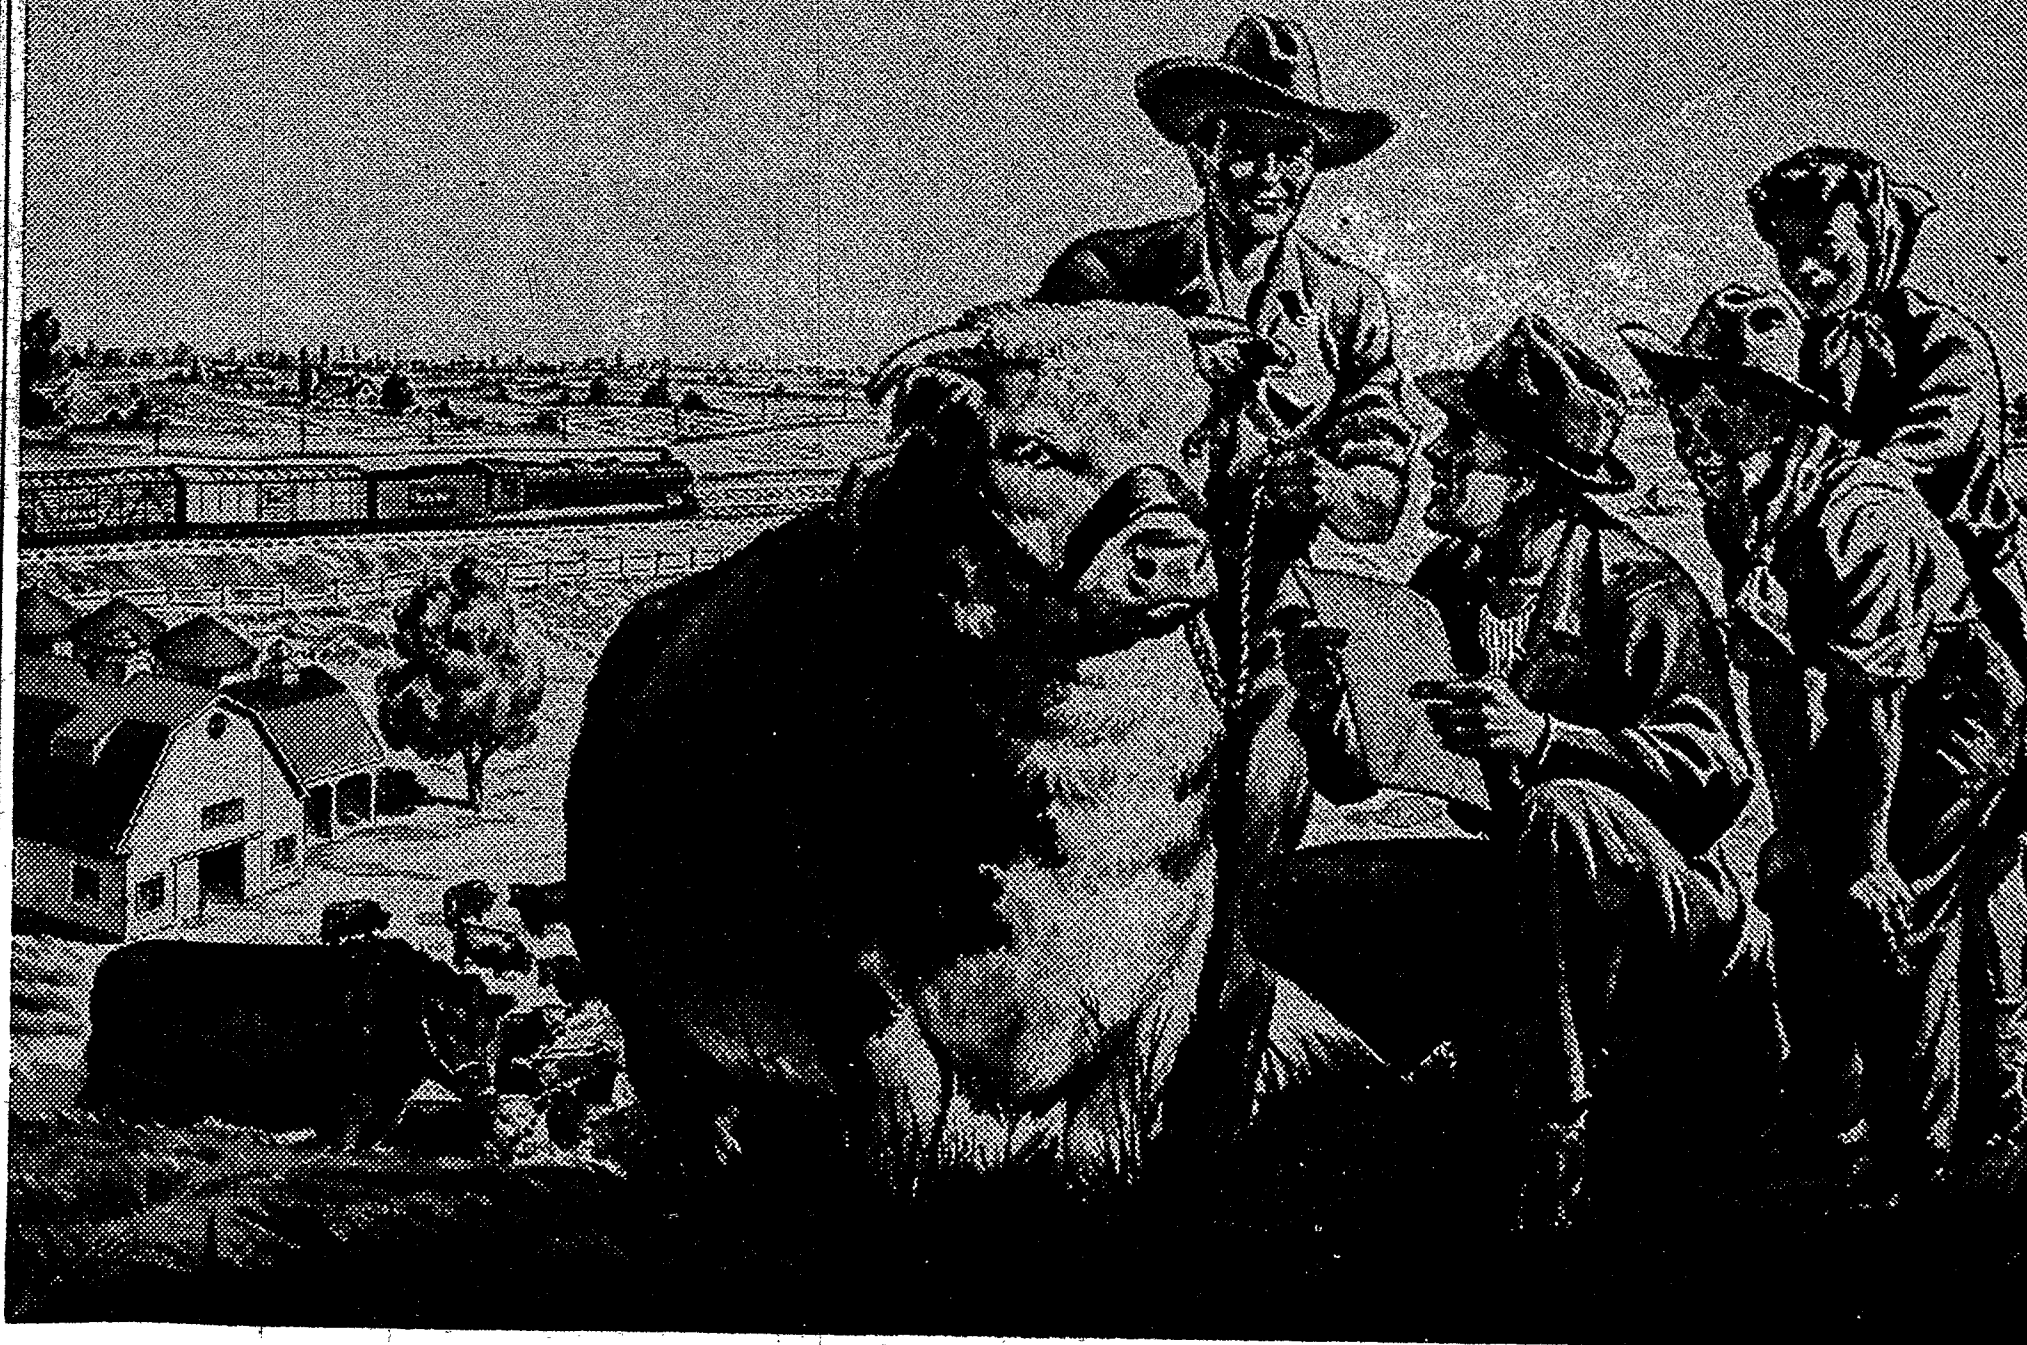

We would also like to mention the fact that the short stories referred to in Mrs. Harris' letter, were cut out from Liberty Magazines, and bound together by Mr. Henry Otis of Logtown. We thought this due special mention, as it took time from a busy man, to think of and carry out, and are quite sure that hundreds of boys enjoyed his labors, as the magazines themselves would bear after much handling, whereas a bound book will give pleasure for many years.

The Mobile Unit of the Red Cross for the Blood Plasma Bank will be with us on August 21. The place as usual is Bay High School. Registrations may be made at the A. & G. Theatre, Orrie's Theatre, the Beach Drug Store, or the Office of the Red Cross in the Court House Bldg. Remember a pint of your blood means life for some fighting man.

The Chairman of the Surgical Dressings Unit reports that last week four boxes containing 14,400 of the 4x8 dressings were shipped. Also one box containing 9,000 of 4x4 bandages. This was the July quota. The August quota of dressings has been doubled. This unit needs daily workers. Please, arrange to give some time to this vital work. The rooms are opened daily in the Masonic Temple Bldg. on Main St.

There never was a girl like Rosie! You remember—Rosie O'Grady, they called her. And now her adventures are depicted in the new Technicolor hit showing Wednesday and Thursday at the Ortte Theatre, entitled "Sweet Rosie O'Grady"—and is she ever a honey! Who plays Rosie? None other than the Army's favorite pin-up girl—blonde, beautiful Betty Grable, the gal with the shapely legs, out-of-this-world voice and a smile that can defrost even the iciest heart.

Critics declare it's the best musical yet from 20th Century Fox, and this is saying plenty, as the recent "Hello Frisco, Hello," "Coney Island," "Wintertime" are all from the same studio—and they were all smash hits.

Starred with Betty, America's favorite, are Robert Young and Adolphe Menjou, two of the top actors

Home Demonstration Club members from here attending the Recreation Lecture by Miss Jewel Garland in Picayune last Thursday were Mrs. George Frierson, Mrs. Isaac Frierson and Mrs. Louis Thigpen.

Mrs. Pannella Gibson is visiting in Hollywood. And in supporting roles are Reginald Gardiner, Virginia Grey, Phil Regan, Sig Ruman, Alan Dinehart, and many, many more—all popular favorites and all perfectly cast.

Betty is seen as the toast of London who, as she is about to win her Duke, is exposed by Reporter Young as an ex-Brooklyn entertainer. How she gets even makes for top-notch entertainment.

In a musical, it's the songs that count, and in "Sweet Rosie O'Grady" there are melodies that are headed for top popularity. Ace tunesmiths Mack Gordon and Harry Warren worked for months providing lilt-ing new numbers and they have come up with some corkers, including "My Heart Tells Me," "Goin' to the Country Fair," "The Wishing Waltz" and "My Sam."

And as for the dance numbers, staged by Hermes Pan, ably abetted on the musical numbers by Fanchon, they are, to quote previewers, "dazzling confections." La Grable is synonymous with superlative dancing—and when she has the costumes, the music and the lavish settings provided in "Sweet Rosie O'Grady," she really outdoes herself—in a word, she's magnificent.

Irving Cummings directed and William Perlberg produced the picture. The screen play is by Ken Englund, based on stories by William R. Lipmann and Frederick Stephani.

One More New Industry for Mississippi

War Power— that will serve needs of peace

Mississippi's new war power plant is well under way! This new steam electric generating station located on Leaf River near Hattiesburg is being constructed to supply the mounting power demands of war establishments, war industries, and other war connected activities.

When the first unit of Plant Eaton, portrayed above, is completed early in 1945, it will be the largest steam electric generating plant ever constructed in Mississippi. Its whirling generator will be able to turn out a half million kilowatt hours per day, more power annually than was generated for public use in Mississippi last year by all the state's electric generating plants combined.

This first unit of 30,000 HP is one of four similar units included in the ultimate plant design.

The War Production Board approved the immediate construction of Plant Eaton as an essential part of the war production program in Mississippi and construction has been pushed vigorously since that time.

After the war this plant will be a tremendous force to fill the needs of peace—to provide power for other new industries and the expanded operation of existing industries; for new stores and homes; for newly electrified farms; for Mississippi's onward march toward a brighter day.
